November 4 | Clovelly Golf Course

Activity overview

Nestled in the tranquil Silvermine Valley between Fish Hoek and Kalk Bay, the Clovelly Country Club rewards accuracy off the tee and provides players with scenic views of the False Bay coastline. Known for its year round conditioning, the relatively short course possesses a unique character by virtue of its proximity to the sea. The dune lined fairways lead to excellent bent grass and poa annua greens; while the many trees create shelter from the strong summer sea breeze.

The rolling computer-irrigated fairways complement visually pleasing water features, which impact the 1st, 10th, 15th and 17th holes. The signature hole is the 4th, a par-4 with out-of-bounds and a stream on the left, and a green guarded by a water hazard. The clubhouse presents a high vantage point not only of the 18th hole, but also the 1st and 10th which both feature sharp doglegs, to the right and left respectively.

November 5 | Cape Peninsula Full Day

We travel along the Atlantic Seaboard via scenic Maiden's Cove and the brilliant white beaches of Camps Bay, then continue along spectacular Chapman's Peak Drive, where you may stop for awe-inspiring photo opportunities. Continue past Hout Bay to arrive at the Cape of Good Hope Nature Reserve. The reserve is home to many animals, and you may even catch a glimpse of coast-dwelling zebra or ostriches while here!

We continue on to Boulder Beach, home to Africa's only permanent colony of the endangered African penguin. These adorable sea birds can be seen from a series of viewing decks and walkways overlooking the beach.

At Hout Bay where we enjoy an iconic "fish & chips lunch" (excluded from tour cost), then continue along the Southern Suburbs to Kirstenbosch Gardens before heading back to your hotel.

November 5 | Table Mountain

Activity overview

One of the oldest mountains on the planet, this natural world heritage site, and Natural New 7 Wonder of the World, is the most iconic landmark of South Africa. Legend has it that the so-called "tablecloth" of clouds that pours over the side when a southeasterly wind blows up the mountain's slopes is the result of a smoking contest between the devil and a retired sea captain named Jan van Hunks. More likely it's a matter of condensation, but the effect provides an awe-inspiring backdrop to the cosmopolitan city of Cape Town.

Flanked by Devil's Peak and Lion's Head, Table Mountain marks the northern end of the Cape Fold Mountain range, which runs like a spine from north to south through the Cape Peninsula. There are more than 2,200 species of plants and 1,470 floral species found on Table Mountain, many of which are endemic to the area, and form part of the Cape Floral Region, the richest yet smallest floral kingdom on earth.

A range of routes offer ways to explore the mountain, from walks around the indigenous forest and lower peaks to rigorous hikes up, but the quickest way to the top is via the aerial tramway, and takes about five minutes. At the top, there's a cafe, some souvenir shops, and trails to enjoy the views, including the path to the summit, marked by Maclear's Beacon, a large cairn built by Sir Thomas Maclear in 1865 to assist in measuring the curvature of the earth.

November 6 | Ernie Els Wines

Thoughtfully selected for its prime position, Ernie Els winery is framed by panoramic views of Cape Town and Table Mountain to the west, and Stellenbosch and the Helderberg mountains to the east. ## November 7 | Erinvale Country & Golf Estate

Activity overview

Having hosted the 1996 World Cup of Golf and the second oldest tournament in the world, the prestigious SAA Open in 2003 and 2004, Erinvale is no stranger to worldwide media coverage.

Built on a narrow stretch of land which escalates sharply uphill, Erinvale is an estate course with two distinctly different nines. The front nine is flat, winding its way through the park-like terrain estate which calls for challenging approach shots to the long narrow putting surfaces, while the back nine meanders through the foothills of the magnificent Helderberg, with breathtaking views of the False Bay coastline from the top holes. The signature par-four 17th hole requires golfers to play downhill from an elevated tee, with tall pines flanking one side of the fairway, and an out-of-bounds fence the other

November 7 | Cape Winelands

Area Overview

Only a 40 minute drive from Cape Town, the Cape Winelands are home to approximately 560 wineries producing some of the best wines in the world. The Cape Wine region offers incredibly beautiful scenery with gentle hills, sprawling sea views from Constantia and Durbanville, majestic mountains in Stellenbosch and Paarl, a rugged interior near Robertson, fertile valleys in Franschhoek, and the beautiful rolling vineyards of Hemel-en-Aarde and Tulbagh.

The region has played an important role in the South African economy since the Dutch originally settled in the Cape in 1652.

November 8 - 10 | Gondwana Game Reserve

Area Overview

Gondwana Game Reserve is the only free-ranging Big 5 private wildlife reserve in the Southern Cape – home to lion, white rhino, eland, red hartebeest, endangered Cape Mountain Zebra, springbok, kudu, and elephant, among others.

The reserve is named after “Gondwanaland”, the original landmass that existed one hundred and twenty million years ago, from which Africa was formed. The Outeniqua and Swartberg Mountain ranges that surround the reserve are the last visible evidence of the former Gondwanaland after the continent split to how it is known today.

Gondwana’s goal is to continue to expand its total conservation area to provide the Western Cape with a large eco-tourism destination for the promotion of indigenous flora and fauna as well as the rehabilitation of wetland areas currently under threat from invasive alien species. Gondwana has already reintroduced the first endangered black rhino to the Western Cape from where they historically occurred.

In developing the private reserve, every attempt was made to reduce potential impact on the environment. Areas of indigenous vegetation were protected and left untouched. Gondwana’s water supply is completely self-sufficient utilising its own streams. Strict water usage controls and restrictions are applied to all buildings to preserve this natural resource.

Exhilarating encounters on game drive with endangered species like the Cape Mountain Zebra and Rhinoceros will provide lasting memories. Over 15 species of antelope can be found on the reserve including kudu, eland, bontebok, waterbuck, sable, grey reebok and many more.

November 8 - 10 | Gondwana Game Reserve

The nature reserve hosts a unique combination of Fynbos and grass plains. Fynbos, the primary vegetation on the reserve which resembles wild flowers, is endemic to the Western Cape region and exists nowhere else in the world, drawing unique bird-life and mammals. An abundance of indigenous plants such as Proteas, Ericas, and Restios provide year round enjoyment and colour. Birding in Fynbos is a once in a lifetime experience with endemic birds frequently seen.

November 8 - 10 | Kwena Lodge

The Peter Matkovich course in Mossel Bay is possibly South Africa's major golf attraction for tourists, and has contributed immensely to the success of the Garden Route as an award-winning golf destination. ## November 11 | Montagu Golf Course

Activity overview

Voted the number one golf course in South Africa in 2000, the Montagu Golf Course at Fancourt is named after the mountain pass of the same name, and is part of the original 27-hole design at Fancourt by the legendary Gary Player in the early 90s. This classic tree-lined parklands layout underwent a major facelift in 2005 under renowned Scottish golf architect David McLay Kidd.

The upgrade saw two completely new holes - the 1st and the 9th., redefined bunkers and greens and introduction of several water features such as the dam. Celebrated for its immaculate, round the year conditioning, the Montagu GC is currently ranked at #6 in South Africa (Golf Digest, 2014). The signature hole is the Par-3 17th, reminiscent of the 12th hole at Augusta National - the permanent home of the US Masters.

November 12 | Outeniqua Golf Course

Activity overview

A majestic 18-hole parkland layout at Fancourt, designed by the legendary Grand Slam golfer Gary Player, the Outeniqua is quite similar to the Montagu and offers challenging design and fine conditioning to ensure an excellent test for all levels of golfers. With play being restricted to hotel residents, members and their guests, the course rarely seems crowded and you can enjoy a peaceful and comfortable round of golf at your pace. Although set in the same surroundings as its better known counterparts, the Outeniqua has developed an individual personality rivalling the others.

As with all courses at Fancourt, there are a variety of tees from which to choose to play, ensuring that golfers are unlikely to ever feel overpowered by the course. Excellent water features and creeks interspersed with uphill and downhill challenges and excellent bunkering (recently renovated) are all augmented in the charm and challenge by the colourful flora to be seen throughout the course.
